PROJECT UPDATE

Date: December 15, 2016

Dear Resident:

The construction of the new Sanitary Sewer main line from Pennsylvania Av and Algonquin Road to Devonshire Dr and Elmhurst Rd has been significantly delayed due to unforeseen utility conflicts and other unknown obstructions. To date, the contractor has completed approximately half of the project, including the work on Algonquin Road between Kolpin/Seymour and Pennsylvania.

Due to winter conditions, the contractor will suspend the project until Spring 2017. The work will resume on Algonquin Road just east of Kolpin/Seymour and will proceed in the order of the streets and limits listed above. The new anticipated final completion date is October 20, 2017.

As a reminder, the project scope includes installation of new sewer lines on the following streets:

- Algonquin Rd (Pennsylvania Av to Andrea Ln)
- Andrea Ln (Algonquin Rd to Jill Ct)
- Jill Ct (Andrea Ln to Susan Dr)
- Susan Dr (Jill Ct to Devonshire Dr)
- Devonshire Dr (Susan Dr to Elmhurst Rd)

The sewer line will be augered to minimize surface disruption. However, work areas will be established at locations where new manholes will be installed. As part of the project, there will be street and intersection closures at various times and locations. In addition, a work zone on the south side shoulder of Algonquin Road will be established. More detailed information concerning work areas, street closures, detour routes and the project schedule will be distributed as the project progresses.

The reverse side of this letter includes a location map of the project and general construction project information.

If you have questions or concerns about this project, please contact me at (847) 391-5388 or bshipp@desplaines.org. If I am not available, please leave a message and I will return your call as soon as possible.
